PROFILE

I am a make-up and prosthetics artist with six years of experience. I am seeking a position in a professional environment to apply the practical knowledge that I have acquired through university education and hands on industry experience. I have collaborated on professional and student projects, both in the UK as well as in India, which has enhanced my communication, teamwork, time-management and problem-solving skills, while enabling me to work on people possessing a variety of skin and hair types. I am keen to explore and refine diverse make-up techniques across all facets of the industry.
